MURDERED PIONEER

The Tragic Death of J. R. Barnett.

Killed From Ambush by a Masked Highwayman.

The Boonville Stage Held Up by a Brace of Desperate Bandits.

F. D. Berryhill Narrowly Escapes With His Life—Barnett Seeks to Conceal His Money and the Robbers Fire Fearing He Wished to Draw a Weapon—Great Excitement in Ukiah Over the Murder.

The stage running between this city and Mendocino was held up at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon by two masked highwaymen. J. R. Barnett, a passenger, was shot by one of the bandits and instantly killed. The scene of the tragedy is situated about seven miles southwest of Ukiah in a densely wooded mountainous country.

The westbound stage, driven by James Rose, left this city at half past one o'clock Tuesday afternoon. At five o'clock Tuesday evening a messenger arrived in town with news of the robbery and murder. F. D. Berryhill, proprietor of the stage line, and J. R. Barnett, a wealthy pioneer of Mendocino county, were passengers. Mr. Barnett was on his way to Boonville, and was taking money with him for the purpose of paying off some bills he owed on the line of the road. He had with him a hundred and forty-six dollars in a purse in his pocket.

When the stage reached a point on the road about a mile west of the scene of the Oldham holdup about two years ago, a muffled voice ordered the driver to halt. The command was instantly obeyed. Berryhill and Barnett were occupying the rear seat in the stage—Barnett on the right and Berryhill on the left. Barnett realized that the stage was about to be robbed and running his right hand into his pocket he withdrew his purse and threw the money beneath the front seat. The robbers, no doubt fearing that he was endeavoring to draw a weapon, fired.

The gun was loaded with birdshot and the charge penetrated Barnett's back and neck and he fell forward and across Berryhill's knees. Berryhill attempted to leave the vehicle, but the robber shouted that unless he remained quietly in his seat he too would be fired on. Berryhill obeyed the command to remain where he was, and the robber then ordered the driver to throw out the treasure boxes.

The driver threw out the three boxes, one after the other. He was then ordered to drive on as rapidly as he could make the horses move. In the mean time, and while the horses were galloping rapidly up the hill, Berryhill sought to raise Barnett from his position at the bottom of the stage.

He did not realize that his companion was dead, imagining that Barnett was simply endeavoring to get out of the range of the bullets. Glancing at his hands, however, Berryhill discovered that they were covered with blood, and upon examining Barnett more closely he saw the blood streaming from a jagged wound in the back and neck. He was stone dead. By this time the stage had reached the Clint Elledge place, a mile from the scene of the holdup.

The body was then taken from the stage and laid on the ground. A man named Elisha Finney drove up in a wagon at this time, and he was induced to bring the body into town. Berryhill secured a saddle horse at the Stipp farm house near the road and rode into town as rapidly as possible in order to give the alarm.

Sheriff Johnson was in Round valley on official business, so a posse headed by Under Sheriff Handy started immediately for the scene of the crime. The stage was robbed at about three o'lock, but it was five o'clock before the local authorities were notified.

The driver was the only man on the stage who saw the robbers, and as he drove on into Boonville with the mail no description of the bandits could be obtained at that time.

Bridget Donohoe and a young fellow named Crow furnished a clew to the officers, however, which may lead to important results. The two young men were out near the locality where the holdup occurred Saturday afternoon last and were approached by a tramp who inquired when the stage might be expected along. During the conversation which occurred another man came out of the brush near the party. Donohoe inquired of the tramp if the fellow was his partner. The tramp denied that he was and asserted that he had never seen him before.

Deputy Revenue Collector Dunn drove along the road shortly after the robbery and saw two men in the woods, one of whom was armed with a shotgun. Dunn, however, was not aware that a crime had been committed, so paid no particular attention to the travelers.

It was dark when the posse, consisting of Under Sheriff Handy, J. L. Johnson, Virgil Johnson, Lee Harbert and Nelson McClure, arrived at the locality of the robbery, and the officers were forced to remain at the roadside until the return of the stage from Boonville, in order to learn the exact spot where the crime was committed.

The hounds were placed upon the trail of the robbers, but the air was too cold for successful tracking, although the dog succeeded in following the scent until it led up to the place where the robbers had evidently made camp. Then the animal refused to travel farther, and it being dark and cold the posse returned to town.

Wednesday morning the officers again left for the scene of the holdup and an hour or so later Virgil Johnson and J. L. Johnson returned with the three express boxes, which had been found about two hundred yards from the spot where the stage had been held up. The boxes had been broken open with an old ax and an iron wedge. The money had been taken from the sacks and the empty coinbags thrown on the ground.

All day long the pursuit was continued, but without important results. Yesterday morning Sheriff Johnson returned from the north and immediately took the trail with the hounds. He was accompanied by McClure, Johnson and Burke.

They followed the trail of the bandits from the scene of the holdup to the Hopland road. Here they learned from young Roder that he had seen two men who answered the description given by young Crow and Donohoe. The men were passing along the road near the Roder house at about 10 o'clock on the night of the murder. When they saw young Roder they separated, one going to the right, the other to the left.

Mrs. Patton, who lives some miles south of town, also saw the men.

The robbers were encamped near the scene of the robbery. The officers yesterday discovered cast-off clothing, cartridges and a small broom, which had been the property of the outlaws.

It was learned last night that the suspected men had boarded a freight wagon at Cloverdale and ridden into Healdsburg.

Sheriff Johnson and Nelse McClure left this morning for the south.

The body of the late J. R. Barnett was taken to the undertaking parlors of Eversole & Templeton, where an autopsy was held by Dr. G. W. Stout, who found that death had been instantaneous and was caused by a fracture of the spinal vertebræ. The shot used was known as No. 4.

The funeral was held at the Christian church yesterday afternoon and was attended by many sorrowing friends and relatives. A very impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. L. F. McCray.

Mr. Barnett was born in Illinois on March 3, 1836, and soon with his parents turned his face towards the west. In 1840, they settled in the Osage country of Missouri. In 1860, he married Miss Louisa Jane Bowers. In 1864, they crossed the plains and settled in Idaho, and there he engaged in mining for two years. Leaving Idaho he moved into Montana, where he lived for eight years, following mining and farming. From Montana he came to California in 1874, and engaged in the feed and livery business at Cloverdale for three years.

He then moved to this valley, and after remaining here for one year he removed to Willits, and for the first time became interested in the stage business. He did not enter into the stage business as a

A Female Tramp.

Constable Harbert had a very hard chase last week. He was informed that a lady, supposed to be demented, was traveling through the country, and started in pursuit. He found that she had been seen in Potter valley and from there had taken the trail toward Lake county. He finally overtook her on the Blue Lake road. When questioned the woman stated that her name was Miss Kime, that she was a native of New York and aged 48 years. She said that she traveled afoot from predilection; that as men had the privilege of touring the country without molestation she did not know why she should not be accorded the same right. The woman packed a valise and other effects and was simply a tramp. The constable questioned the woman closely and arrived at the conclusion that she was what she represented herself to be. So she was allowed to proceed on her way.

A Fatal Accident.

An accident on the Fort Bragg railroad Monday afternoon resulted in the instant death of Jaspar Nowdesha, a locomotive fireman. While rounding a curve with a long train of logs the engine ran against a log which had slid from the hillside, one end of which lay across the track, while the other rested on the bank above. The engineer and fireman jumped from their engine but a moment before it struck, Nowdesha being on the side next the bank. The force of the collison swung the log around and it rolled upon the unfortunate man, crushing him in a terrible manner. He was 25 years of age and unmarried. The deceased was formerly a resident of this city.

Arrested the Wrong Man.

P. J. Crowley of Laytonville swore out a warrant Monday last for the arrest of L. H. Yates, a neighbor, whom he charged with assault with a deadly weapon. According to the testimony adduced at the hearing before Justice Critchfield yesterday it seems that Yates was crossing lands owned by Crowley, who forcibly protested. Yates in return struck Crowley over the head with the barrel of a Winchester. The court arrived at the conclusion that the wrong man had been arrested, as Yates was peaceably traveling and had a right to the road. Yates was therefore discharged.

Dr. McCowen Injured.

Dr. George McCowen was painfully injured Tuesday last by a fall. He was in the loft of his barn getting out hay to feed his horse. A bale of hay fell on him and knocked him out of the door and he fell a distance of about eight feet, striking on his head and shoulders. The coracoid process was fractured and the doctor shaken up considerably. The injury is a painful one, but Mr. McCowen is a rugged man and will speedily recover.

MURDERED PIONEER.

speculation, but as an occupation for business and for livelihood. At the end of four years came an opportunity to fulfill a desire to go to Texas and engage in sheep-raising. After being there a few months he took a contract to carry mail.

At the expiration of his contract in Texas he was awarded a contract for carrying mail on the Ukiah and Humboldt line. While engaged in this contract his family lived in Hydesville. In 1891, they removed to their present home in Ukiah, since when he has been engaged continuously in the stage business.

Thus have the years of his life been spent. He was one of the multitude. He was one of the stalwarts of the rank and file of our every day work-a-world life.

Two men have just been arrested in Santa Rosa who answer to the description given of the robbers.

THE COUNTY INCOME.

RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS FOR THE PAST YEAR.

A Brief Resume of the Proceedings of the Late Grand Jury—A Large Fund of Money Collected but a Much Greater Sum Expended.

The REPUBLICAN-PRESS, as usual under important circumstances, was on the street last week 17 hours ahead of its esteemed contemporary. It contained the full report of the grand jury's deliberations with the exception of what here follows:

The grand jury impanelled by your honorable court on the 16th day of August, 1897, beg leave to submit the following report:

We have been in session fifteen days. We have found one indictment. We have found five accusations. Three cases were called to our attention which have been examined and ignored.

We have visited the county farm and in so far as we could learn we find about sixty inmates who are well fed and cared for and the several apartments as to the farm, garden and buildings to be conducted in a neat and orderly manner.

We have visited the various county offices, and in so far as we can ascertain we find them kept in a neat condition, except as to matters referred to in another part of this report. We recommend that the maps in the recorder's office be put in better condition by the proper authorities. We suggest that the jail be kept in a more cleanly condition.

Upon an examination of the license record we find that there is due the sum of $379, which we find is an improvement on former records.

We find that the county clerk has failed to perform his duties, as follows: He has failed to make a demand on the various county officers for fees by them collected that should be turned in to the county treasurer the first Monday in each month as provided by law; to make a financial statement to the board of supervisors at each regular meeting; he has drawn warrants on the revenue of one year to pay bills of previous years; he has failed to keep record of separate accounts for each school district; he has delegated authority unlawfully to the school superintendent to draw warrants on school funds, and has unlawfully delegated to the school superintendent authority to stamp the auditor's name on such warrants, and we have instructed the district attorney to take the proper action in these matters.

We find that the county treasurer has paid warrants of one year from the revenues of the following year, which is contrary to law; that he fails to take receipts for warrants turned over to the county clerk; that he does not present a financial statement to the board of supervisors at each regular meeting. We have instructed the district attorney to take the proper action in these matters.

We find that the district attorney has, in some instances, endorsed bills that were not properly itemized.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot, and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.
